COINCIDENTALLY AT FAULT

Robert Todd Lincoln was at the White House when he heard what had happened to his father at Ford Theater. He immediately rushed to be by his side and stayed there till his death. After the death of his father, he would go on to be a very successful lawyer and an important figure in Republican politics. Yet He eventually refused to have to do with the presidency. He felt it was too dangerous.

It wasn't just at his father's deathbed he saw what an assassin's bullet could do. He was standing right next to James Garfield when a gunman fired the bullet that would eventually kill him. Then as he was waiting outside for William McKinley when he was shot. From then on he refused to go anywhere near a president. He said "No, I'm not going, and they'd better not ask me, because there is a certain fatality about presidential functions when I am present."

It was just a coincidence but the tragedy still weighed on Robert Lincoln. He isn't the only one. Many folks get weighed down thinking they are responsible for things that they really don't have much control of. Things like other's behavior or choices. We think if we would have done this or that maybe things would be different.

We can influence others. We can teach others. We can be examples. But we can't control them. We have enough to be responsible for in managing our own lives that we don't need to take on everyone else's as well.

Let's be careful to not blame ourselves or others for actions that they have no control over. God only judges a man for his own actions, shouldn't we as well?

TODAY'S VERSE

By this gospel you are saved, if you hold firmly to the word I preached to you. Otherwise, you have believed in vain.

~ 1 Corinthians 15:2

TODAY'S PRAYER

Father, I trust in no other God but you. I trust in no other Gospel but the story of your love and grace in Jesus. As the old hymn so beautifully puts it, I ask dear Father that I may "never, ever, outlive my love for Thee." In Jesus' name I pray.

Sermon Notes

Liars in the Church

A preacher finished the service one morning by saying, 'Next Sunday, I am going to preach on the subject of liars. As a preparation for my sermon, I would like you all to read Mark 17.'

On the following Sunday, the preacher rose to begin.

Looking out at the congregation he said, 'Last week I asked you all to read Mark 17.'

If you have read the chapter, please raise your hand.'

Nearly every hand in the congregation went up. Smiling, the preacher said, 'you are the very people I want to talk today. Mark has only 16 chapters.'
