OVERLOOKING NEHEMIAH

He was a poison detector and that was a job, not a title. He would sip the liquid and if he didn't fall over dead, he would hand it to the King so the King could safely drink it.

Nehemiah was called a "cup bearer" and he made sure that all drinks, water, wine, the hard stuff, did not contain poison before the Persian King, Artaxerxes would consume it. Nehemiah was a devout Jew living in the royal palace as a slave in the capital city of the Persian Empire, Susa. And while he has his memoir written, the book of Nehemiah of the Old Testament, he was still a poison detector. He was not a spiritual leader. His biography is very clear; he just wanted to rebuild the walls of the city he had heard stories about. He was just an ordinary guy, who believed in God and asked God to help him. He had no special religious training, wasn't a Levite thus a priest, didn't have a pulpit in which to stand nor had a prophet's training.

If you think about it, a lot of those people of Bible times were just devout individuals seeking to do what God wanted them to do. Abram, Gideon, Zerubbabel, Matthew, Peter, Andrew, Luke, Phillip, Demas, Tychicus to name just a few.

Today we tend to think that only "Spiritual leaders" can talk or tell us about Jesus. That the "professional staff" are the only ones with training and insight to convey the important passages to others. Our religious environment tends to focus on the manuscripts, blogs, and opinions of those leaders without conferring with the sources: God, Jesus, Holy Spirit and the Bible.

Yet the history of Judeo-Christian faith demonstrates that it was the Nehemiahs of the times that most effectively and most often carried the message.

In our 21st century world, we are overlooking the Nehemiah within us.

Let me help you find your Nehemiah by joining our blog discussion at www.hopeforlife.org.

Classes will be held each Thursday from 6:00-7:00 p.m. beginning on January 6, 2022 at KBCOC. Classes are open to the public. CDC guidelines will be adhered to. For more information, contact Sis. Vincent at (870)723-6482 or benniev.1214@gmail.com

Today's Thought

I don't know about you, but I've stumbled my way through much of life. I've tripped at some of the most embarrassing moments. I've stumbled over my own feet, shoelaces, curbs, and just pure air. However, I am confident that in my spiritual life, even though I have stumbled from time to time, God has not let me completely fall. When I think I'm going to plunge into the depths of the abyss, the Father's love, care, concern, Scriptures, servants, and helpers have kept me from destruction. God's hand does uphold me. He is there in times of trial. He has been mighty to save. I do believe that he delights in my journey. How about you?

Today's Prayer

O Father, thank you for your steadying influence in my life. Thank you for lifting me when I have been down, protecting me when I have been vulnerable, and comforting me when I have been broken. I praise you for your grace, your glory, and your nearness. Through Jesus, I offer you my praise and eternal appreciation. Amen. (HEARTLIGHT.ORG)

WHAT MUST I DO TO BECOME SAVED?

HEAR the Gospel (Romans 10:17)

BELIEVE in the Gospel (Hebrews 11:6)

REPENT of your sins (Luke 13:3)

CONFESS Jesus Christ (Romans 10:9)

BE BAPTIZED for the Remission of Sins (Acts 22:16)

BE FAITHFUL unto Death (Rev. 2:10)
