PLANNING AHEAD

The story is told of Morris, a Russian man, who saved his rubles for twenty years to buy a new car. After choosing the model and options he wants, he's not the least bit surprised or even concerned to learn that it will take two years for the new car to be delivered. He thanks the salesman and starts to leave, but as he reaches the door he pauses and turns back to the salesman. "Do you know which week two years from now the new car will arrive?"

The salesman checks his notes and tells the man that it will be two years to the exact week. The man thanks the salesman and starts out again, but upon reaching the door, he turns back again.

"Could you possibly tell me what day of the week two years from now the car will arrive?"

The salesman, mildly annoyed, checks his notes again and says that it will be exactly two years from this week, on Thursday.

Morris thanks the salesman and once again starts to leave. Halfway though the door, he hesitates, turns back, and walks up to the salesman.

"I'm sorry to be so much trouble, but do you know if that will be two years from now on Thursday in the morning, or in the afternoon?"

Visibly irritated, the salesman flips through his papers yet another time and says sharply that it will be in the afternoon, two years from now on Thursday.

"That's a relief!" says Morris. "The plumber is coming that morning!"

We often have to make plans far in advance so as to avoid any conflicts. Before making any commitments — you know the routine — we have to pull out the date book. "The kids have got a soccer game that night at 7:00, but the next night is free." Planning ahead isn't wrong; in fact, it's a scriptural principle. What makes it wrong, though, is planning ahead without any thought of God.

Come now, you who say, "Today or tomorrow we will go to such and such a city, spend a year there, buy and sell, and make a profit"; whereas you do not know what will happen tomorrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapor that appears for a little time and then vanishes away. Instead you ought to say, "If the Lord wills, we shall live and do this or that." (James 4:13-15)

CHURCH OF BONES

A preacher once categorized his congregation into five types of bones:

1. Wishbones—folks wishing for better things, but not willing to work for them.
2. Jawbones—gossiping kind that put others in turmoil.
3. Funny bones—touchy people who wear their feelings on their sleeves.
4. Dry bones—true to faith but dead as fossils.
5. Backbones—those who are the spiritual support of the church and keep the body standing.

It's fine to wish for better things, but let's make an effort to bring them about by every means at our disposal.

There are some who need special help and attention to keep them faithful and active. By lending this help, we are rendering a great service to them and to ourselves. When we can strengthen someone, we become stronger in the process.

Finally, let us be patient, knowing that our efforts are not always rewarded with success.

We dare not become weary in well doing (Galatians 6:9), and we need to pray to God to help us in our down times.

PROVIDER OF NEEDS

"GOD IS ABLE TO MAKE ALL GRACE ABOUND TO YOU, SO THAT IN ALL THINGS AT ALL TIMES, HAVING ALL THAT YOU NEED, YOU WILL ABOUND IN EVERY GOOD WORK." ~ 2 COR. 9:8

God loves the generous giver and blesses him. God himself gives abundantly so that His children may have enough in all things. He gave His Son, the Holy Spirit, and the excitement of a new, redeemed life.

If we trust in the Lord completely, we can be certain, regardless of how dark the storm clouds are above us, how great the need—we will always have sufficient strength and grace; we only need to ask God to provide in our need.

From His unfathomable grace, He will every day, in every way, provide in all our needs through life. His love knows no bounds!

Thank you for the quiet assurance, Lord Jesus, that I will always have sufficient strength and grace for every situation in life. In Jesus name, Amen.
