CONSIDER THE CHILDREN

Children are precious. They were brought into this world through no desire of their own. Many are abused, used as pawns, neglected, denied, and betrayed. Such is not fair.

Dr. R. F. Hertz, a British psychologist, engaged in a research project of wide interest. He has asked almost 100,000 children between 8 and 14, from all walks of life, in 24 countries, to list 10 rules of behavior for parents. Here is the list:

1. Do not quarrel in front of children.
2. Treat children with equal affection.
3. Never lie to a child.
4. Develop tolerance between parents.
5. Maintain comradeship between parents and children.
6. Treat your children's friends as welcome visitors in the house.
7. Always answer children's questions.
8. Do not blame or punish children in the presence of their friends.
9. Concentrate on your child's good points. Do not overemphasize his failings.
10. Be constant in affection and mood.

This list should cause parents to stop, look, and listen. Read it again carefully, thoughtfully, and with self-inspection and evaluation. How are children treated in your home? They deserve the best.

God gives this advice: "Do not provoke your children to wrath, but bring them up in the training and admonition of the Lord" (Ephesians 6:4).

On The Lighter Side...

One Sunday morning at a small southern church, the new pastor called on one of his older deacons to lead in the opening prayer. The deacon stood up, bowed his head and said, "Lord, I hate buttermilk."

The pastor opened one eye and wondered where this was going. The deacon continued, "Lord, I hate lard." Now the pastor was totally perplexed. The deacon continued, "Lord, I ain't too crazy about plain flour. But after you mix 'em all together and bake 'em in a hot oven, I just love biscuits."

"Lord help us to realize when life gets hard, when things come up that we don't like, whenever we don't understand what You are doing, that we need to wait and see what You are making. After you get through mixing and baking, it'll probably be something even better than biscuits. Amen."

As long as we have memories, yesterday remains.

As long as we have hope, tomorrow waits.

As long as we have love, today is beautiful.

As long as you have God, anything and everything is possible.

GROWTH IN PRAYER

"After Job had prayed for his friends, the Lord made him prosperous again and gave him twice as much as he had before."
JOB 42:10

Making enemies isn't all that hard. But remember, it is possible to turn an enemy into a friend—although this isn't easy, as forgiveness requires true greatness.

Only those who have undergone meaningful spiritual growth can transform enmity into friendship. One sure and practical way to turn enemies into friends is to pray for them. This may sound absurd but it is a truly wise act if you desire a pleasant life. Prayer changes your attitude toward people and events, and when this happens, the battle is just about won.

Dear Lord, help me to grow in You so that I may develop a forgiving spirit. Help me to follow Your example. In Jesus name, Amen.
